ADMINISTRATOR'S NOTICE.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE SECOND JUDICIAL DISTRICT of the State of Nevada, county of Washoe.

In the matter of the Estate of Samuel Brown, Deceased.
Notice is hereby given that the undersigned was appointed Administrator of the estate of Samuel Brown, deceased, by the above entitled court on the 18th day of February, A. D. 1899, and that all persons having claims against said estate should file the same, properly verified and with the necessary vouchers, with the clerk of said court within sixty days after the first publication of this notice.
R. C. MOORE,
Administrator of the estate of Samuel Brown, deceased.
Dated Reno, Nev., Feb. 24, 1899. 4w

The bud is more easily blighted than the full-blown rose. A young girl is more susceptible to weakness and disease that will wreck her in a womanly way than she is after she has attained to healthy womanhood. Thousands of women have their lives wrecked by troubles of this delicate description because of their own ignorance and the prudery of their mothers.

Whenever the wandering demon of ill health finds a ship adrift upon the sea of ignorance, he steps on board, takes the helm, and steers straight for the masthead of death. The young woman who has not been taught the necessity of taking care of her health in a womanly way is a ship adrift upon the sea of ignorance. Diseases that will wreck her future happiness will soon assume command. Young women who suffer from weakness and disease peculiar to their sex live under a terrible nervous tension, and if they escape death are always threatened with insanity. The whole nervous system is affected by the constant drag and drain upon the delicate and feminine organs. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the one perfect and unfailing specific for every derangement and disorder of this description. It fits a woman for wifehood and motherhood. It is the best of all known nerve tonics. It is the discovery of one of the most eminent and skillful specialists in disease of women.

"I was troubled three years with female weakness," writes Miss Ellen Oley, of Bedford City, Bedford Co., Va. "I had two physicians, but neither did me any good. I was troubled with pains in my left side all the time. When it was time for my monthly periods I thought I would die with pains in my back and stomach. I also had chills. I could not get up without fainting. Finally I took three bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and two of his 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I do not have any pains at all and am in better health now than I ever was in my life."

How to preserve health and beauty are told in Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser. It is free. For a paper-covered copy send at once one cent stamps, to cover mailing only; cloth binding, 10 stamps. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

An Offset.

"This is Mr. Pner, is it not?"
"Yes, sir.""You have rented a house fronting on Mulberry square, I believe?"
"I have."

"Well, my name is Ferguson. I have rented the house next to yours, and by a queer mistake the man I sent to clean it up so I could move into it went to the wrong place and cleaned up yours. His bill, which I settled, is quite moderate—only $1.50—and I thought that if the work proved satisfactory on inspection perhaps you would not object to assuming the payment of that amount."

"Not at all, sir, but I shall charge you $1.50 for one day's occupancy of my house. That, I think, makes us even, sir."—Chicago Tribune

When the Time Came.

Maud—Oh, Ethel, and what did you say to him when he proposed to you? Did you say what you said you were going to the other day? That was a noble speech, just suited to crush the boldest man. And did he sink away like a whipped dog?
Ethel—Well, not exactly. You see, I didn't say just that. I—I—well—er—well, you see, I said "yes."—London Fun.

Strange Mistake.

North Side Mother—I told you a little while ago, Jerry, who our first parents were. Let me see if you remember. Who was the first man?
Precocious Boy—Adam.
North Side Mother—That's right. Who was the first woman?
Precocious Boy—Eve. —Chicago Tribune

Two of a Kind.

Husband (at the breakfast table)—Oh, for some of the biscuits my mother used to make!

Wife (sweetly)—I'm sorry you have not got them, dear. They would be just about stale enough by this time to go well with that remark.—New York World.

Getting Matters Adjusted.

"That woman next door went and got a hat exactly like mine."
"Did you make a fuss about it?"
"No; I gave mine to the cook."—Chicago Record.

Blind Devotion.

The blind devotion with which an old servant did his duty was illustrated on one occasion when his master had a dinner party. During the dinner Henry was very nervous and made two or three blunders.

His master showed his annoyance and cast angry glances at his servant, but the poor man could not settle quietly to his work.

At last, when the dessert had been placed quietly on the table, he stole timidly behind his master's chair and said:

"Please, sir, can you spare me now? My house has been on fire for the last hour and a half!"—London Answers.

Curzon's Bad Writing.

It is said of Mr. George Curzon, the governor general of India, that his handwriting became quite illegible at one period of his Oxford career. At this time he wrote two letters, one to a relative, one to a chum with whom he always discussed the faults of their respective relations, and accidentally put these letters into the wrong envelopes. He was about to write a profound apology to his relative when he received the following note from him, "Can't read a word of your four pages, but guess you want some money, you young rascal." Inclosed was a handsome "tip."

The closing of the leaves of plants as the evening comes on was at first supposed by botanists to be due to the difference in temperature, but on transplanting the plants into a greenhouse it was found that the same phenomenon occurred, the leaves closing at sunset.

He Wanted a Pension.

Opie Read tells a funny story of a colored man who had conceived the idea that he could get a pension from the government. He went to a pension agent to learn what steps it would be necessary for him to take to bring about the desired result.

"Were you really in the army, Sam?" asked the agent.

"Yes, sah. Indeed I was, sah. I was in de army for more'n a year, sah."

"What regiment were you in, Sam?"

"Waal, sah, I don't just this minute remember, but I 'ze gwine to bring you all de papers, and dat will explain de matter."

"But you surely remember whom you were with, Sam?"

"Oh, yes, sah! I remember dat all right. I was wid my young master."

"Oh, then you were in the Confederate army, were you?"

"Yes, sah; yes, sah."

"Were you ever wounded, Sam?"

"Yes, sah; indeed I was. See dat scar, sah? I got dat scar in de army, sah."

"What was it hit you, Sam?"

"Waal, sah, it was a skillet, sah. Indeed it was. A big iron skillet, sah."

"Now, see here, Sam, what chance can you have to get a pension? In the first place you were in the Confederate army, and then the only wound you received anyway was from a skillet. What in the world has our government got to do with your case?"

"Waal, sah, it was a government skillet, sah."—Chicago Times-Herald.

A Woman's Way.

"Here is something that I would like to approach very gently," said Mr. Stoggleback, "so as not to give any offense."

"The new woman wants her rights and her privileges, too, and as a matter of fact I am very glad she does cling to her privileges, and I hope she'll stay a woman. But the way in which she mixes her rights and privileges up is sometimes a little confusing. For instance:

"When walking along the sidewalk woman holds her course and lets the man turn out, and she does this just the same down town in the busiest streets as she would in a calm and quiet residence street. You might think that a business woman working among business men in a business part of the town would adopt business methods in everything, and that when you met her in the street she would turn to the right as you do and as all men do, but she doesn't. She holds her course, which is very likely to be along the inner side of the walk, and expects you to turn out for her, even if it carries you to the left instead of to the right. She doesn't care about that."

"No matter who she may be or where you meet her woman expects man to turn out for her, and I hope she always will."—New York Sun.

What He Found.

"I've opened about 8,000,000,000 oysters in my day," said the old oysterman who sells you the real genuine unfattened and unspoiled "salts," a penny apiece, in the shadow of one of the big market buildings, "and I have never found a pearl in one yet."

"But I've found something just as good as pearls," he added with a wink. "I have found four nice paying tenement houses and good balances in eight savings banks. There is a good deal in an oyster shell besides pearls, young man, if you will look close."—New York World.

NOT IN LINE.

The Gazette denies that there is a Republican paper in the United States that ever asked the Democratic papers to drop silver. The JOURNAL never said that such request had been made, but it did say that the Republican papers in the east are filled with that kind of advice, which was and is the truth to the letter. Our friend of the Twilight Twinkler furthermore says:

"We will say further to our friend, McKinley Republicans ask nothing easier than to have William J. Bryan nominated next year on a free-trade-silver platform."

We only regret that our evening contemporary does not speak authoritatively from the Republican leaders in the east, for then everybody would be happy. The Democrats are more than content to make the next campaign with "Bryan and silver on the Democratic side," as against McKinley, Alger, Egan, embalmed beef and such other elements of fin de siècle Republicanism, as compose the political stock in trade of the p. o. p. for the contest in 1900. The JOURNAL most sincerely wishes that its esteemed neighbor had the power to arrange the political program as it proposes, but unfortunately the Wall and Lombard streets are as scared of the silver issue as a wild broncho of a locomotive, and will move heaven and earth to crowd the silver question out of the campaign, and these two localities are too powerful for our Virginia street friend—but not powerful enough to subdue the bimetallic sentiment of the people of these United States of North America.

A TRAVESTY ON JUSTICE.

The proceedings of the Court of Inquiry as given in press dispatches show that General Miles is certain to be relieved of his command of the army. It is generally believed that such is the aim of the President, and as he made the appointments, the members doubtless know the "duty" they are expected to perform. The President's zealous support of Alger makes the downfall of General Miles a political necessity and an indispensable adjunct to a military endorsement of his administration, so essential at the present time. So far as the testimony goes, General Miles' sole offense consists in his endeavors to have proper food supplies for the soldiers, but as in that he clashed with the interests of Alger and Egan's accomplices—the Chicago beef contractors—he must be crushed out to sustain the administration that sustained the thieves. As the Sacramento Bee truly says:

"It is indeed a peculiar spectacle when we find the entire War Department combined against General Miles, together with Egan, the discredited blackguard, still in receipt of a princely salary for doing nothing, his counsel, and the counsel of the Chicago beef contractors—all three for the purpose of crushing a brave and honorable man if they can possibly do it. And McKinley stands back and rather aids the scoundrels than assists the honest soldier."

INSTEAD of placing a tax upon mines, why not increase the State's revenue by enacting a law compelling the assessment of the Central Pacific Railroad Company at a rate one-third of that which is paid on other kinds of property? This would bring three times as much money into the treasury as would accrue from mine taxation; no industry would be crippled and no harm done to anybody or anything. Of course the railroad company would rather pay upon one-fifth or one-sixth, than one third of its property valuation, but it ought to be willing to make such additional contribution to keep up a commonwealth, which it has learned to consider its own private and political property.

If Henry Clay, Tom Benton, John C. Calhoun or any of the eminent statesmen of the long ago were alive and in this Senatorial election in California they would be back numbers. In their day brains were required.—Sacramento Bee.

If the shades of those departed gentlemen had materialized at Carson during the Senatorial contest they would have blushed at the remembrance that they were ever members of the body to which the successful candidate was elected, but would have rejoiced at being "back numbers" in up-to-date American politics.

THERE are several European governments which are rejoicing at the fight we have on our hands in the Philippines.—Reveille.

There are several beef contractors who rejoiced at the hand to hand fight that Uncle Sam had on his hands in Cuba and Porto Rico.

OUR Republican neighbor has not yet expressed himself on the subject of embalmed beef. As brother Bregg is a noted epicurean and a recognized authority on pickled pig's feet and tomatoes, his views would command more than ordinary interest and attention.

SEEMS TO BE MURDER.

The Coroner's Inquest Develops Damning Testimony Against Reed.

The coroner's inquest held yesterday at Wadsworth over the killing of George Avery developed facts which seem to give evidence of foul play. A JOURNAL representative interviewed Dr. W. A. Phillips and Coroner Peers, who were present at the inquest—Dr. Phillips to give expert testimony in regard to the nature of the wound and Mr. Peers in his official capacity as coroner.

Dr. Phillips testified that the bullet entered the right side between the sixth and seventh ribs and emerged between the second and third ribs on the left side, near the arm pit. The ball in its course penetrated the left lung and the heart.

A man by the name of Jackson, who is quite well known throughout Washoe county, was the principal witness. In telling his story of the tragedy, Jackson said that the evening before the shooting he had called at the Avery cabin, which was about 800 yards from his own. Reed and Avery did not appear to be on the best of terms, and when Jackson rose to leave Avery followed him out of the cabin, saying, "when well out of Reed's bearing: 'Reed and I had a little trouble this morning. He went out and tore down my monument and claim notice and brought the notice in the house and put in the stove, but I am going to put up another one to-morrow.'"

Jackson then returned to his own cabin and went to bed. Shortly after he arose the following morning he heard a rifle report, followed by cries of "Oh, Oh, Oh!" Jackson called to his companion, who was still in bed, saying, "Some one is hurt." He then ran down to the mill, thinking that the trouble was there. Finding nothing wrong at the mill he was returning to his cabin, when he met Reed coming toward him from the Avery cabin.

Reed called out, "Stop, Jackson; I want to see you." When quite near Reed said: "I have killed Avery, but it was accidental. I am sick."

This was all he said about the killing. Reed then walked into Jackson's cabin and went to bed, while Jackson got his horse and started for Wadsworth to bring out the constable.

The jury's verdict was that "Avery had met his death by a wound received from a rifle in the hands of a man named Reed."

Reed is recovering from his attack of measles, but will not talk about the affair.

Illegal Trout Fishing.

There have been a number of complaints recently about illegal trout fishing along the river. Not only illegal fishing with hook and line but it is also reported that certain large holes down the river have been blown up with dynamite. All this trouble is the result of the fish law not covering white fish. Men go out ostensibly to catch them and perhaps get more trout than white fish. If there was no fishing for white fish there would be no excuse whatever for being along the river fishing, neither would powder be used when the rod failed, at least out of season.—Truckee Republican.

An Interesting Case.

All people are interested in a new case that has recently cropped up in Reno, and they have good reason for being so. This case contains many striking features. It is Mr. F. P. Dunn's show case on Virginia street, down by the iron bridge. It is very beautiful, his new window display of all that is modern in photography. There one may see large opalotypes, small autotypes and lovely porcelains. Just think! Artistic photographs on genuine porcelain. And what do you think of this? He makes photographs on handkerchiefs—silk handkerchiefs. What more appropriate present could be imagined than one of these with your photo on it?

SUMMONS.

IN THE SECOND JUDICIAL DISTRICT Court of the State of Nevada, in and for Washoe County.

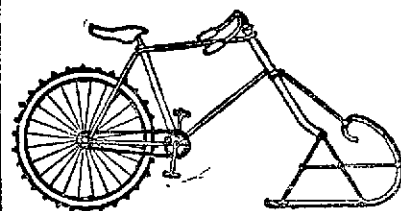

The State of Nevada sends to C. H. Gardner, David T. Jones and W. T. Burnham, Greeting:

You are hereby required to appear in an action commenced against you as defendant by A. J. Foster as plaintiff in the Second Judicial District Court of the State of Nevada, in and for the County of Washoe, and answer the complaint therein within ten days after the service on you of this summons, exclusive of a day of service, if served in said county, or twenty days if served out of said county, but within said ten days, and in all other cases forty days; or judgment by default will be taken against you according to the prayer of said complaint. This action is brought to recover against you a decree to foreclose a mortgage made by C. H. Gardner on the following mentioned and described real property, to-wit: South half of the west one hundred feet of lot six in block "U," and lot 5 in block "U," in the town of Reno, Washoe county, State of Nevada. Five appears by mistake in the mortgage as said lot 5, and not a part of block "U," as in fact it is, also to procure an order of court directing a sale of the above mentioned property for the purpose of procuring money to pay a promissory note for the sum of $1800 and $100 delinquent of costs and charges of foreclosure and sale, including interest accrued and unpaid. Said note was made by the defendant Gardner on the 4th day of October, 1898, and by its terms provided for interest on the sum thereby represented at a rate of 8 per cent per annum, interest payable semi-annually. That said note and the interest thereon accrued and remaining unpaid said sum of $1800 31-100; also should there be insufficient to pay said indebtedness a judgment is sought for any unpaid remainder after payment of costs and charges of foreclosure and sale. It is alleged in the complaint that there is a mistake in the description of the property mortgaged and the mistake is sought to be corrected by order and decree of court, and thereafter that an order be made and decree entered foreclosing said mortgage and directing a sale of the property mortgaged, and after said sale the cost and charges of foreclosure and sale including attorney's fee of $500, provided for by the mortgage, be paid from the proceeds arising from a sale of the mortgaged property; also that the defendants David T. Jones and W. T. Burnham, made parties defendant in said action and each of them be required to answer the complaint, showing any right they or either of them may claim in the mortgaged property. All of which will more fully appear from the complaint, which is on file in the office of the Clerk of said Court, at Reno in said county, and to which you are especially referred and you are further notified that if you fail to appear and answer said complaint, the said plaintiff will apply to the court for the relief demanded.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the seal of said Court, at Reno, this 1st day of February, A. D. 1899.

F. B. PORTER,
Clerk of the Second Judicial District Court of the State of Nevada, in and for Washoe County.

High Grade Tragedy.

Once in a great while there drifts into Reno tragedians who are fast winning their way to the top of the ladder of permanent fame.

The production of Sardon's "La Tosca" last night by the Melbourne Macdowell company was a revelation to lovers of the classic stage, and an effectual "aguelcher" to the critics who contend that first class tragedy is on the decline. Blanche Walsh in her interpretation of "Flora" Tosca's original character, displays talent as grand as it is rare. Mr. Melbourne Macdowell as Baron Scarpia showed that the reputation he has won was gained honestly; and so long as the stage has as able devotees as Miss Walsh and Mr. Macdowell theater going will be a means of classic education instead of a passing amusement. It would be useless to give a synopsis of "La Tosca" as nearly all are familiar with the works of Sardon; suffice it to say that excepting his "Anthony and Cleopatra," it is the most difficult to stage in a manner which will truly represent the high theme of Roman life as seen in the mind's eye of the incomparable Sardon. The Melbourne Macdowell company, through its production of these masterpieces, has gained the applause it justly deserves.

Free Delivery System for Reno. Mr. Robinson, postoffice inspector, is in Reno. His mission here is to take observations in regard to the establishment of a postal delivery system in this city. Before that can be done, however, it will be necessary for the houses on the different streets to be numbered. This difficulty will doubtless be overcome by the City Council at its next meeting passing an ordinance requiring it to be done. The establishment of the system will prove of great convenience to the people of Reno, and it is to be hoped that the inspector's report will be favorable, for upon it will depend the result. The amount of business in the Reno office and the population of the city would seem sufficient to justify a favorable report.

A Clever Trick. It certainly looks like it, but there is really no trick about it. Anybody can take it who has lame back and weak kidneys, malaria or nervous troubles. We mean he can cure himself right away by taking Electric Bitters. This medicine tones up the whole system, acts as a stimulant to liver and kidneys, is a blood purifier and nerve tonic. It cures constipation, head ache, fainting spells, sleeplessness and melancholy. It is purely vegetable, a mild laxative, and restores the system to its natural vigor. Try Electric Bitters and be convinced that they are a miracle worker. Every bottle guaranteed. Only 50c a bottle at S. J. Hodgkinson's Drug Store.

Up-to-Date Minstrelsy. Hi Henry's fifty minstrel stars will appear at McKissick's Opera House on Thursday, March 23. They make special emphasis of the newness and novelty of their program and the special merit of their features. No old threadbare jokes, nothing objectionable, but everything bright and clean. They bring strong endorsements of the press all through the west, and are big favorites in the east. Seats are now to be had at Claire Dickinson's.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve. The best salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns, and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by S. J. HODGKINSON.

Agreed Upon a Proposition.

There was a meeting of the members of the City Council, the Washoe legislative delegation and the Directors of the Water Company held Wednesday evening, at which, it is stated that, an agreement was arrived at as to the proposition to be submitted to the people, viz., "Shall the city buy the old water works for $125,000 and the electric lights works at $75,000?" As the present appropriation is only $150,000 it is difficult to conceive how $200,000 can be paid for the property. Messrs. Sommerfield and O. J. Smith were selected as a committee to draw a bill in accordance with the agreement.

Misquotes as Usual.

It seems impossible for the Gazette to quote anything from the JOURNAL fairly or truthfully. This paper never said that Mr. Osburn objected to the County Auditor vetoing any bill because he was elected by the county and not by the city. The JOURNAL only expressed its own opinion of the impropriety of a county officer acting in that capacity for the city. If the city needs an Auditor let provision be made for the election or appointment of one and not let the duties be forced upon a county officer who says he does not to act in that capacity.

Gilded Lips.

It is a common practice among Japanese young ladies, when they desire to make themselves very attractive, to gild their lips.—Ex.

It would require a solution of sulphuric acid on the lips of the other party, to create the thrilling sensation which is said to result from the performance of the osculatory act.

An Old Renote Robbed.

Oscar Hildebrand writes the editor of the Reveille that in the fire last week he lost his valise containing several changes of clothing, $30 in money, trinkets of fifteen years collection, his book of writings, stamp book containing a valuable collection of foreign and American stamps and his over coat and over shoes.

Their Wedding Trip.
A summer visitor in a New England mill town made friends with one or two of the French Canadians who were employed as operatives in the mills.
One of these was an elderly widower whose two youngest children the visitor had taken to drive with him several times.
"I make a marriage next week, ma'mselle," said the father as she deposited the children at their home late one afternoon. "You see us all go past your house on the wedding trip."
"Indeed!" said the young woman.
"Shall you go in the coach?"
"No, we go in hired buggy. My wife she go, and I with her, to the bury ground, same as our people most always," said the man, with evident surprise at the lady's ignorance. "Three buggy more behind us, and we all carry two, three bouquet to put on my first wife's grave. Yes'm, it is a pretty wedding trip to the bury ground, and respectful."

Three or four days later the summer visitor was filled with mixed emotions as he saw the four buggies, laden with the wedding party clad in gay attire, pass the house and turn into the little cemetery. Some minutes later the buggies again went by, that time at a cheerful trot, and she was favored with an elaborate bow from the bridegroom, whose face wore a happy and virtuous smile.—Youth's Companion.
